

Charge Lumber Company Paid Sheriff for Convicts FIRST SHOT TO DEATH BY HIS ASSISTANT

Slayer Prepares Sacrament, Then Murders Superior

Kalamazoo, Mich.—Armed with a revolver and a phial of holy oils to administer extreme unction to his victim, the Rev. Father Charles Dillon, assistant pastor of St. Augustine's Catholic church, Thursday night shot and killed the Rev. Father Henry O'Neill, pastor of the parish, following a quarrel at the dinner table. Father O'Neill had ordered him from the hotel.

The killing of Father O'Neill culminated what the Rev. Dillon told police was "thirteen months of ill treatment" during which he said Father O'Neill "treated me like a little boy, and assumed toward me the attitude of a czar."

Father Dillon, who is being held, told police that the tragedy was the climax of the ongoing feud. Father O'Neill, his assistant, and Father McCullough were at the table, he said. Father O'Neill ordered Dillon to go to stairs and "pick his grip." Instead, Dillon went to his room, grabbed a revolver and returned to the dining room.

"I intended to give him a chance to confess and repent before I killed him," Dillon said.

Production at the branch here reached 200 cars a day during the last week. There were 23 carloads of Chevrolet shipped out of Jamesville on Tuesday and on Thursday the schedule called for a drive-away of 138.

ALLIES MEET FOR UNITED EFFORT IN REPARATIONS PLAN

RE-WELDING OF FRONT EXPECTED AFTER CONFERENCE.

METHOD SOUGHT
Project Would Lessen German
Burden and Accelerate Payments, Belief.

Paris — A re-welding of the inter-allied front is expected to result from Friday's meeting of the Franco-Belgian ministers here, at which a reparations plan drafted by the French experts will be compared to one drawn up by the Belgians.

The French plan was planned by the foreign office experts in close collaboration with the reparations commission. La Motte, which prints a resume of the draft, says it leaves the total German indebtedness at 132,000,000,000 gold marks, but provides for a method of payment which would lessen the burden of the debt and at the same time accelerate the installments during the next few years.

If France in that period is able, through international credit operations, to get 25,000,000,000 gold marks, representing the "A and B" German bonds, as well as her part (continued on page 8.)

HOUSE ADJOURNS FOR END OF WEEK

Government Members of Commons Out in Force to Balk Laborites.

London — The house of commons adjourned at noon Friday until Monday, its weary members welcoming relief from association that had been continuously in progress more than 21 hours, mainly for consideration of the army and air force annual bill, which finally passed its third reading.

This is the only opposition presented during the year for the members of the house to revise the conditions of discipline in the army and air force and the sitting was notable for the absence of any obstruction from labor benches. There were some angry scenes between labor members and the chair and a great amount of hilarity on the labor benches.

The lesson of recent events evidently had its effect on the government. Several amendments were presented to avert another surprise defeat. Several leaders of both sides were absent but it was understood that they were in the case of an emergency. The debate was chiefly carried by the laborites, several of whose amendments were voted down by considerable majorities.

EINSTEIN IMITATOR, SAYS U. S. NAVAL ASTRONOMER

Vallejo, Cal. — Captain E. J. J. See, U. S. N. astronomer at the Mare Island navy yard here, in a statement denouncing Prof. Albert Einstein, the Swiss scientist, as an imitator and a spreader of untenable theories, expressed regret at the action of Dr. W. W. Campbell, director of Lick observatory, in announcing Wednesday that he had confirmed the Einstein theory of relativity insofar as it concerned the bending of star rays.

Development of the photographs taken in Australia during a total eclipse of the sun does not, in the opinion of Captain See, form a basis for recognizing Einstein's relativity.

"A fundamental postulate of Einsteinism," he explained, "is that ether does not exist, and that gravity is not a force but a property of space. These crazy vagaries scarcely require mention beyond the remark that such a discussion is a disgrace to our age."

Captain See further commented: "The celebrated English physicist, Henry Cavendish, (1731-1810) calculated the effect of Newton's theory that the corpuscles of light are bent toward the sun in passing near it; and in 1801 Dr. J. Von Soldner, a German physicist of eminence, accurately derived the formula here used by Einstein. This was 122 years ago. Einstein in his writings never once mentions Soldner."

Continuing that "Einstein cannot be regarded as a scientist of real note; he is not an honest investigator," Captain See conceded the validity of the recent eclipse observations in Australia but argued that "the refraction of starlight redounds to the credit of Newton and Von Soldner, not of Einstein."

Madison — The senate voted, 17 to 12, Thursday night against a change in the Wisconsin compulsory vaccination law, proposed in the Peltier bill already passed by the assembly. This measure would have left vaccination optional.

Modification of the restrictive feature of the Wisconsin primary election law, which kept the democratic party off the last general election ball, again was favored by the senate and the Kamke bill sent to Governor La Folie.

MINNESOTA URGES Bounty on Heads of Bootleggers

Hollywood Falls, Minn. — Declaring his belief that moonshiners are more dangerous than wolves, John P. Bolger of Milroy, Minn., in a letter to the Redwood Falls Sun, suggested a bounty be placed on the heads of Volstead law violators, the same as on wolves.

"If a liberal bounty were offered for the arrest of moonshiners, I think the bootlegger and blind pig would be a thing of the past in a short time," Bolger writes.

"Who liquor men, with a bounty hanging over their heads, would not know whom they could trust and would soon be willing to 'quit their illegal business'."

SUNDAY SPORT LID PROPOSED IN ILLINOIS

Chicago — A blue law Sunday, such as proposed by State Senator MacMurray of Chicago, in a bill introduced in the legislature and Springfield Thursday would close every branch of commercialized sport and amusement in Chicago on Sunday.

The bill, it is understood here, is part of the national campaign of the Lord's Day alliance, of which the Rev. Harry L. Bowley of New York is the executive head. It is understood similar action has been or will be started in 43 states.

One drastic feature of the bill, which provides for fines and jail sentences, would close for one month for any use whatever any place where the law was shown to have been violated.

BADGER SOLONS TO CONFER ON BRIDGES

RIVER STILL HIGH; RAIN IS PROBABLE

Precipitation, Predicted for Friday Night, May Swell Stream.

Standing at its highest in 13 years for the third successive day, Rock River may go still higher. If it does, fires in business buildings on Main and Milwaukee streets may be put out.

Rain is probable for Friday night and Saturday, according to government weather bureau predictions. Falls in the river and in the week, the river went up three inches. If the same conditions prevail this week-end, a new high record is likely here.

A northeast wind, cutting across Lake Michigan, whipped the river Friday afternoon and may have the tendency to send the river up to a further high mark here.

At 2 p. m. Friday, the river still stood at 41.3, neither above the government mean level mark at the Fourth avenue dam of the Janesville Electric company.

Fires in the Jackson building furnaces barely escaped being put out Thursday night, but the waters receded Friday. The Golden Eagle fire, which broke out at the same time, there is about at the same stage it has been for several days.

There has been no change of conditions along the river banks.

High school students. — To set at rest for all time statements that the new Janesville high school is in danger of being flooded, President Jess Earle on Friday had measurement taken of the depth of the water in comparison with the height of the basement floor. At the highest mark since 1905, the water is about below the floor of the basement, he said.

STRANGE LIGHT SEEN IN SKIES

Spreading across the southwestern sky, a peculiar streak of changing light bewildered Janesville residents Thursday night between 8 and 9:30 p. m. Seen from the Milwaukee street bridge, the light, similar to northern lights, extended from the water tower of the Lewis Knitting company, directly across the building of the old Janesville Machine company and thence westward. It varied in intensity, finally shifting and fading into the west. No electric disturbance, which always accompanies the aurora borealis, accompanied the phenomena.

EMBEZZLER GIVEN YEAR

L. J. Tipton, Milwaukee, a salesman for a Chicago piano sales agency, pleaded guilty to embezzlement of $2,500 and was sentenced to serve three months on the county farm at hard labor for riding a train through the county without a ticket.

Sheriff Jones, in making a sworn statement, admitted having seen Tipton in the county jail and remembered the sentence imposed upon him by the court. He, however, said two deputy sheriffs made the arrest that the prisoner was held in the jail 48 hours after he was sentenced, as is required by law, and then was taken to Taylor county and turned over to the sheriff for a receipt obtained for the prisoner.

Tells of Letter
He said eight days after Tipton was sent to Taylor county he received a registered letter, addressed in care of the sheriff and from Tipton's parents in Munich, N. D. The sheriff said he informed the postoffice of the fact that "the party had gone to Clara."

WHY I LIKE JAMESVILLE

When you arose this morning with the warm touch of spring in the air, and in your mind you did not have to go about six miles through smoke-laden atmosphere to get to work in a skyscraper set in a canyon 800 ft. to a fiery furnace, and a chimney pipe where a blade of grass would have to secure special police protection in order to win an existence? Of course you were, and that made you like Janesville all the more.

Police Are Bootleggers, Charge of Magistrate at Commissioner's Hearing

MEAD DRAWS CASH FOR HIS FORECASTS

New York—Magistrate Joseph E. Corrigan Friday told David Hirschfeld, commissioner of accounts, what prompted his recent statements from the bench that he was "surprised at the depths to which the police department had sunk" and that "half of the cops are bootleggers."

Testifying at an investigation of charges made against the police department by the jurist and by Assemblyman Louis A. Cuyler, Magistrate Corrigan enumerated instances reported to him of raids conducted without warrants of police merely drinking much of the evidence and of bootleg liquor appearing in the neighborhood marts suspiciously soon thereafter.

At the end of a raid on an Italian restaurant on West Houston street three or four months ago, the magistrate testified, "The police searched his place and could not find anything. Then they broke into the place next door and seized stocks worth $20,000."

"There were 23 policemen in the raid and I am told that they drank about 5 bottles of liquor, breaking off the tops of the bottles. I am also told that three or four hours later, liquor was being sold in the neighborhood marts."

Asked by the examining commissioner if he believed that story, Magistrate Corrigan said he "certainly did."

He said he had reported similar escapades of the police to Police Commissioner Enright and Mayor Hylan, "but without results."

EGYPTOLOGIST NOT ILL, CLAIM

An Exchange Telegraph message from Cairo Wednesday night said Mr. Carter had been stricken with illness and that Lady Carnarvon, in consequence, had postponed her trip to England with her husband's body.

Madison—The assembly Friday passed to third reading the Czerwinski senate bill requiring the manufacture and sale of standard loaves of bread. The vote was 52 to 12. Non-concurrence had been recommended by the assembly committee on commerce and manufactures. The bill provides loaves shall weigh one pound, one and one half pounds, or any even number of pounds.

The committee on agriculture bill, providing that banking institutions making loans to farmers and farmer organizations shall be shown preference by the board of deposits in making deposits of state funds, was engrossed without debate.

The Matheson bill, amending the law on manslaughter in the fourth degree so that "slight want of ordinary care shall not be deemed culpable negligence" within the meaning of the law, was engrossed, 48 to 40, after an unsuccessful fight had been made to postpone the measure.

Another bill engrossed was that by Hilly, requiring the college of agriculture to make an annual report on the cost of production of agricultural products at the experimental stations.

LICENSES FORGOT COUNTRY WAS ARID

Marquette—All saloon proprietors in Ontario have been legally licensed to sell pre-Volstead liquor for four years and the local prohibition officials didn't know it. It was disclosed here when Bert Kain, Ontario, proprietor of a soft drink parlor, arrested on a charge of "moonshining," produced a license similar in every detail to those issued prior to July, 1918. He was freed.

According to Ontario officials, who made a hurried trip to Marquette to uncover the error, it was found that in renewing licenses to saloon proprietors in 1918 a mistake was made, the old licenses, following the sale of wine and whiskey, being granted. A general recall of all licenses issued to Ontario saloonkeepers is expected.

Rotary Speakers Visit Schools to Boost for Camp

Talks were given in various schools Friday by Rotarians, starting their campaign for Rotarianism, a summer project which carries the club's object, aiding boys and young men. More than 125 prospects were secured when the junior high school was visited in the week and interest is evidently high in the grades.

The following spoke at the schools named Friday: Jefferson, Victor I. Richardson and N. L. Clark Adams, Fred Hakeley and Dr. Frank Van Kirk; St. Mary's, Herbert Cunningham and Edward Murphy; Washington, James Pfeiffer and Edward Kohler; Central, J. C. H. Adams and Robert J. Rogers; St. Patrick's, Fred Sheldon and Joseph Connors; Douglas, the Rev. Henry Willmann and Judge Charles Pfeiffer; vocational, James Dorrans.

The Rotary boys' work committee, the Rev. J. A. Melrose chairman, is glad to get the names of any boys 11 to 15 years of age who want to go to camp, or to help in the work, and to train and experience. While it is against the policy of the club to allow any boys to go free, the committee favors a plan of cooperation whereby the boys can work for camp expenses. The cost is $6 for ten days. A. C. Preston will again be director and two trained experts for nature study and aquatics are to be hired this year.

Mail Service Is Back to Normal

Normal postal delivery will be resumed in this city Saturday morning when the 14 city routes in operation for two weeks will again be made into 15, the driver of the parcel post truck put on as carrier for the extra route, and a new sub-carrier hired for the auto. This is made possible by the additional work which the local office was given when patrons strongly objected to the cut in service. The usual two deliveries in all residence sections and an extra one in the business part of the city will be again in order starting Saturday.

Concerning the World Court.

Let us not misunderstand the proposal of the president that America shall enter the world court.
 He does not ask that we become "the" world court but "a" world court. It does not mean that we shall become a part of the League of Nations though the advocates of the league with all its opportunity for entanglement, have given out the opinion that so long as we are willing to go into a world court we ought to take the other step and swallow the league, hook, line and sinker. In the first place the United States is divided into three sets of opinion. There are first, the irreconcilable advocates of the league,
 who know no middle ground and blindly advocate
 entrance without any protection whatsoever.
 There are many altruists in this small set of people who are deeply convinced that all the resources of the United States should be used for nursing Europe back to economic health. They are joined with those admirers of Mr. Wilson, who never question for a moment that whatever he proposes is the law and the gospel. Then there is a third element of the first small group,
 making by far the largest number of the league advocates, the politicians who see again in the league the possibility of an issue for 1924 and without the league admit there is no genuine issue in a campaign against President Harding and his administration.

The second division of public opinion embraces the larger number of persons who think we should do something for Europe and at the same time something also for ourselves in restoring equality and tranquility without joining leagues or in any manner entangling the United States in war or controversy. It is to this division that President Harding, Mr. Hoover, Senator Pepper and others must appeal in advocacy of a world court.

The third division of public opinion is that of the irreconcilable opponent of any jointure with any foreign nation in treaty of offense or defense,
 or to tie ourselves with any European question.
 The leaders of this division are opposed to a world court on the ground first of all that it is the outgrowth of the league idea and second that it is not a court at all except in name. Mr. Harding, in his original presentation to the senate of this plan, was careful to suggest that we could not join in a world court unless the protocol by which the court was organized was so changed as to give the United States a full voice in the selection of judges. The suggestion of the president was at once grasped by the defeated and often obstructed advocates of the Wilson league as a step in the endorsement of Mr. Wilson's and Robert Cecil's league when it was far and away from any such suggestion of that conclusion. But this attitude has made it necessary that there be wide discussion of a world court, what it means and what it entails in responsibility on its membership, the United States included. We have so emphatically registered opinion against the leadership of the first division of public opinion —that in favor of accepting Mr. Wilson's league—that we must know we are not again entering upon ground whereupon the voters of this nation erected by a seven million majority,
 the sign "Forbidden."

There is nothing new about American participation in international affairs as represented by the Permanent Court of International Justice
 when amended by the suggestions of the president. So changed and amended the court at once becomes a body representing something different from the first offspring of the league of nations.
 In 1907, Elihu Root, then secretary of state, instructed delegates to the Hague at the second peace conference that year, to advocate the establishment of just such a world tribunal, as the permanent court would be under the plan of President Harding and Secretary Hughes. Such a tribunal is a judicial body and its functions are that of a court, not a semi-military or diplomatic controversial organization. It will have jurisdiction over justifiable disputes between nations.

We are getting a discussion of the terms of the world court which is a good thing for the country.
 The people have spoken surely and certainly on the subject, that no suggestion whatever that will bring us into the league of Nations as an appendix to the Versailles treaty, will be acceptable.
 There can be no entrance into the field of European politics which will involve us in the series of economic errors from which Europe is suffering today, no matter by whom it is proposed or on what excuse it may be based. Such a suggestion by President Harding would be rejected, and lie placed in the discard along with it.

AMERICANIZING ALIEN WOMEN

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN

Washington.—Much has been said about the American woman, who, until recently, lost her American citizenship when she married a foreigner. But now about the foreign born woman who is also by the recent law made independent in her citizenship status? She sees her husband go off to school to learn English and citizenship requirements, and then he goes to court and comes back a citizen of the United States. And she is still an alien.

The Americanization school in this city says that the new law is having a pronounced effect on this alien woman. If she does not learn English she is soon shut out of the conversation and affairs of her husband and children, who adapt themselves to American ways at school and at work.

The remedy is to induce her to become a citizen
 on her own account, and that means more work for Americanization schools. These organizations have always tried to interest the alien woman in becoming a real American, even though under the old law she might become a citizen in name when her husband did, without effort or intelligence.
 The new law is going to supply progressive immigrant women with a stronger incentive to learn English and become Americanized in an intelligent way. These women are already enrolled in the Americanization schools. But to reach the timid ones has become a more vital problem than ever.

Immigrant women cannot be induced to come to a school in large numbers. Some have small children to care for, and some are frightened by the idea of going into a public place and speaking with strangers in a strange tongue. Because of these conditions, Americanization schools have for some time been sending workers out to teach women in their homes. Sometimes five or six can be got together in one home to learn English through a course in first aid on hygiene. Sometimes they can be attracted by a little class in sewing when they would not come to a gathering where they might have to talk. But when several nationalities are represented in a group the desire arises to know a little English, so that they can talk a bit together. As the women begin to feel at home with each other and with the teacher, simple lessons in English begin.

Field workers who go to these homes also organize under age kindergarten for children three and four years old in foreign neighborhoods. The small children learn English readily with help of a foreign accent, than older members of the family and the mother often is won over to the study of English through interest in her child.

These home classes and under age kindergarten
 have been off-shoots of Americanization schools, but they are gaining in importance through the growing need of helping the foreign mother to share in the Americanization of her family.

The cradest idea is that the foreigner should forget everything about his past and his ancestry and acquire a typically American attitude toward life. That program proved neither practical nor desirable.

Miss Maude Alton, principal of the Americanization schools of this city, takes a broader viewpoint. She says:
 "Americanization to me means making it possible for these groups of people from other nations to give America the best that they have to offer. Through this contact they become acquainted with American ideals and realize that some people in this country do believe in the ideals we talk so much about. We must remember that, unfortunately, the foreigner often gets his first idea of what American ideals are from the petty politician, the bootlegger, and the industrial agitator.

"Americanization workers should really show
 the alien that the government here aims to give the highest happiness to its people. It is useless to tell any one to be loyal to a country without first making him feel a love for it. If a foreigner comes to an Americanization school under official administration, if he is greeted as a friend, and his difficulties are smoothed out for him, he comes to feel that the government is, as it claims to be, a friend of the people."

Miss Alton further points out that in "some countries beliefs and principles are so similar to ours that the new American citizen has only to adjust them to our customs and form of life.
 Those who come from countries where the attitude toward life is very different must be shown that American ideals are fine and desirable.

"There are several gifts which these people from other parts of the world can bring us," she Alton says. "Three things, particularly, she mentions."

"We need the zeal for intellectual achievement which northern Europe values so highly. We need,
 also, to regain admiration and respect for fine handicraft, for the crafts are being neglected because of our industrial situation. Interest in creative handicraft makes a people resourceful in themselves and it makes them artistic. Then, we need the enthusiasm for active pleasures that is seen among the peasantry of Europe. They still play games and take part in amusements spontaneously, without the formal direction that is so often necessary when we play in public."

These theories as to what the foreigner can give in the Americanization process and what he is to get from it result in an unusual sort of school.
 In one of the day classes there are about 30 students, representing 15 countries. These day students are mostly young men and women, with a few older married women, and one white-haired grandmother who puts more vim into her English lesson than the young folks.

The pupils sit around long tables. It is not a very quiet school, but the teacher is not aiming to achieve quiet. As there are a few native tongues to this small group of people they may converse together in English if they talk at all. So they consult and help one another freely, realizing that it is good practice to make themselves understood.

The social side of life is not ignored. One class gives a regular Friday morning program of music and literary selections. Some of the students talk of their native arts and give performances.
 Others give American selections.

That this sort of Americanization works is shown by the students. They realize that they have a right to be proud of the country in which they were born. But their real interest is obviously in America and their enthusiasm for things
 American is boundless.

Those Highway Bills.

After listening to strong and incontrovertible arguments in which justice was asked of the taxpayer who contributes the money, the joint committee on highways of the state legislature, proceeded with unanimity to recommend its own bills and ignore the cities and county boards of the state. Under the committee bill, 283 S. A.
 a difficult and complicated system of collecting a two cent tax on gasoline is recommended to the two houses of the legislature and with the new machinery necessary it is a safe statement that the overhead cost of collection and the evasions made possible will eat up a larger part of the revenue estimated.

Of course the bills have not passed the membership, and while it is given out by the committee members that they will be sent along fast,
 the legislature is a peculiar body in that it may change the whole situation, reject all the proposals, including gas and weight tax and either let the system remain as it is or adopt some substitute more equitable and less questionable.

JUST FOLKS

CONTENTMENT.

A little house on a little street.
 Where the children play and the eager feet,
 A friendly tree and a friendly door.
 Who is the man who would wish for more?
 What have the palace or mansion home?
 That God has denied unto me and mine?

Laughter? Mine is as sweet and clear
 As ever rings in a soul at rest.
 Smiles? My babe's are as fair to see
 As ever a monarch's child could be.
 And the proud rich man who is riding by Shall come to no happier home than I.

Over my roof the blue sky bends,
 Under my roof the toiling ends,
 Small be the house, but what care I,
 Rich with peace are the hours that fly.
 What if he brightens his meal with wine,
 I shall have laughter and love with mine.

What has another that I must gain?
 The sunbeams dance through my window pane,
 The same rain falls on the friendly tree,
 The same joys comfort both him and me.
 Shall fond arms welcome him home today?
 I shall be met in the self-same way.

So I am as rich as a king, I say,
 Though I must trudge to my toil by day;
 My children are dear and as fair to me
 As ever a monarch's babes could be.
 And I shall find love at my humble door,
 And who is the man who can boast of more?

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

Let us repeat a few facts which tend to qualify some of the most popular nursery superstitions:
 The baby requires no nourishment
 whatever the first 12 hours of life, only sleep in a warm crib. It is a most pernicious practice to give the baby any kind of nourishment in the first 12 hours. In the second 12 hours
 the baby should be put to the breast regularly at four hour intervals, likewise in the second and third days. In many cases a strict clock work four hour nursing schedule may be maintained intelligently, nursing once during the night. In other cases the baby is better nursed every three hours, for seven times each 24 hours,
 omitting one nursing in the night.
 From 15 to 20 minutes is long enough for a baby to nurse. Generally it is better to let the baby empty one breast completely at a nursing, reserving the other breast
 for the next nursing.

The mother should lie down beside the baby for nursing, rather than hold the baby in her arms. After nursing, the baby should remain perfectly quiet, and not be rocked or jiggled about. Strict obedience of this rule means good digestion for the baby. Jouncing, rocking or jiggling the baby is a custom which is not sanitary, can excite. Nature demands quiet after nursing. If possible, sleep, for good digestion. Too often there are abnormal notions

 about this which cause much disgestive difficulty by rocking or shaking the baby about when he should be snoozing with the peace of a full stomach.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Bathing the Children.
 I bathe my 5 year old youngster
 three times a week and my 4 month old baby every day. Is it too often?
 And should I bathe them when they have a cold or cough? (Mrs. L.)

Answer.—Not too often. Bathe them when they are ill unless the doctor directs otherwise.

Is the Popular Notion that Itching is a sign of healing in a wound merely a fancy or is it any real foundation? (U. W. G.)

Answer.—The inflammatory reaction which occurs in the healing process
 probably increases the sensitiveness of the nerve terminals about the wound. This gives rise to itching sensations.

Sulphur and Molasses.
 When do you give sulphur and molasses as a blood purifier in the spring of the year? What proportions, how much, and how often should it be given? (M. J. C.)

Answer.—It purifies the blood as well as any other medicine can, which is not at all so for as I know it is merely a physic, any time of year.
 About equal quantities of flowers of sulphur and molasses, and a tablespoonful for a dose, daily.

Q. Will moisture in the air help crops to grow? D. C.

A. It is a well established fact that plants in general are unable to absorb water vapor from the air. The exceptions are a comparatively small number of plants, lichens, mosses,
 etc., which absorb rain or dew
 through their leaf or thallus surfaces.

Q. What river is widest at its mouth? M. S.

A. The Rio de la Plata has the broadest river mouth in the world,
 measuring 25 miles across at Buenos Aires and more than 50 miles at Montevideo.

Q. Have coins ever been made of platinum? K. L. C.

A. In coinage, platinum was first used in counterfeiters of gold coins.
 From 1828 to 1845 a small amount of platinum was struck in Russia.
 The coinage containing 2 per cent of iridium. A three-ruble piece was first made and struck. The present value of platinum will be about $35.

Q. What is the legend concerning the spots on a haddock? C. C.

A. A haddock has two black spots on the haddock, which according to legend, are the thumb and finger marks made by Saint Peter, who took the tribute money from the mouth of a haddock.

Q. When was children's day originated? H. F. D.

A. In 1883 the Presbyterian general assembly designated "the second Sabbath in June as the Children's day
 on which special services for the children shall be held."

Q. Who said "You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear?"
 A. P. M.

A. The quotation is an old English proverb and as originally rendered reads, "You can't make my Lord, I fear, a velvet purse out of a sow's ear."

Q. Are there rules to govern every question that comes up in golf?
 H. V. K.

A. Golf rules are comprehensive but not all-embracing. For instance, in a recent match a man played a ball into a caddy house near the eighteenth green. By raising a window he was able to play the ball out to the green and score a three, but the rules are not clear as to whether he had a right to raise the window as his ball
 lay more than a club's length from it.

Q. What militant leader was called the "crazy boy"? T. Y. U.

A. The late Senator Thomas C.
 Platt of New York was widely known for his "crazy" remarks.

Q. How many faculties has the human mind? E. C. D.

A. Spurzheim classified the propensities, sentiments and faculties of the human mind as follows: Propensities—
 curiosity, philoprogenitiveness, com-centrateness, adhesiveness, combativeness, destructiveness, alimentiveness, secretiveness, acquisitiveness,
 love, lower love, self-esteem, love
 of approbation, cautiousness,
 higher sentiments—benevolence, veneration, conscientiousness, firmness, hopefulness, wonder, ideality, wit, imitation, etc. Faculties—individuality, form, size, weight, color, locality, number, order, eventuality.

Q. What are the qualifications for

 Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine?
 K. L. W.

A. Only Masons of the thirty-second degree of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, or Knights Tem-

Girl of Ghost Mountain

By J. ALLAN DUNN

Author of "A Man to His Mate," "Rimrock Trail," "The Man Trap."

Copyright by Small, Maynard and Company, and published by arrangement with McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

SYNOPSIS. Peter Sheridan, young New York lawyer, married in Arizona because of threatened tuberculosis. His wife, who is now dead, was a girl from Ghost Mountain, a place where a woman, though never seen, is said to be a ghost. At Metzal, the nearby town, Sheridan, rustler and bad man, attacks a Chinaman who is rescued by Sheridan and installed as cook at the ranch. Later Sheridan is aware that Ghost Mountain is inhabited by a young woman and a giant. Sheridan, Thora, hearing that the rustler and his gang are planning to raid the place, Peter and Red plan to rescue the women.

"I have told you my name," he said, as he shook hands with Thora and felt the vigor of her grip, electric with vitality. "Peter Sheridan. This is my friend and manly assistant, the ranchman, Lem Jackson."

"Better known as 'Red,' Miss— and Miss," said Jackson, trying to appear at his ease, dropping the hand of the slimy lady as if he thought he might hurt it, shaking that of Thora Nelson as if it had been that of another man.

"We've seen you before," said Sheridan. "One night when we were camping at Lake of the Woods as sunset and you were on the rim of the mountain."

The girl's eyes widened. "That was you? I told Thora about it. I rode to see the sunset and I saw the lake. It was like a great opal. I saw the little fire and two tiny figures by it. But I did not suppose you had noticed me. The mist was all about me."

"You looked like a 'witch,' laughed Sheridan. "I was inclined to doubt your solidity and Red thought you were a ghost for a minute. This is Ghost Mountain, you know? El Monte del Muerte, the Mount of Death."

"We are not afraid of ghosts. El Monte del Muerte, Mountain of Death, is the Spanish name. We knew that, of course. An Indian tribe lived here long ago. Thora dug up some arrowheads yesterday. And so you came to make us a call? That was thoughtful. But how did you find the way in? We are glad to see you but we are a little disappointed that our secret entrance is known."

"The could easily make a gate across the tunnel behind the fall," said Sheridan. "Or we would be glad to make it for you to atone for our trespass. It might be a good idea. I'll tell you how we found our way."

He was sure that they were well ahead of the surprise party and he took time to gloss the character of the proposed visit. He told of the way their arrival had been heralded to Metzal and described that place, half-ghost town, half-ghostly; he hinted at the ways of Metzal and his gang, watching the girl's eyes take on understanding, while Thora narrowed. But neither of them showed any sign of fear.

"You must think that these men represent the community," he said. "They are in the minority. We have some respect for the conventions. And these are not alto-

Heart and Home Problems

Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 23 years of age and expect to be married in May. The man I am to marry is four years my senior. He is a very well respected fellow and saves his money rather than spend it. He has gone to college and has a half year and has never had an unpleasant word between us. I love him dearly and am sure he loves me.

He is of German parentage and very nice people. He is around with a fellow during the war and contracted a habit of pronouncing his "V's" as "W's" and "Th's" as "D's." He says "bruder" and "wail." Do you think I ought to go on with my plans to marry him? This embarrasses me very much when in company. But I feel that if I broke my engagement I could do a lot worse, as good fellows are so few and far between nowadays.

Do you think I can possibly make him overcome this habit? Do you think I am foolish for asking ahead?

UNDECIDED.
I doubt if your fiancé could have picked up a man's name in talking just by associating with someone during the war. Probably he has heard the wrong sounds at home since childhood and so his habit is deep-seated. If he is willing to have you remind him of his mistake, he can probably overcome the habit which annoys you.

Of course your real happiness depends on the character of the man and his kindness to you and not on the way he pronounces his "V's" and "Th's." I would not advise you to give him up because of so small a thing. If you decide to go on with your plans for marriage, however, firmly resolve that you will not nag him after marriage or let his harmless fault take such proportion that you will not be happy with him.

CHEERFUL RAINY DAYS
I can hear some readers say that there is no such thing as a cheerful rainy day. Well, it depends. I've had the nicest things happen to me on rainy days, and I've been consoling of being at my most miserable stage when the sun shone. But I'm not so much affected by the weather as some people.

In any case, we should do everything possible to make rainy days cheerful. I don't mean that we should go around with bright smiles and wet such gay tones. And mackintoshes—why are they drab, tan, and gray, or "sensible" dark blue? Why not brilliant, gleaming shades, like the umbrellas? Our feet have to be covered in dark colors; in any case they'd be covered with mud, but we can certainly cheer up the rest of our rainy day garments.

Of course it's a temptation to wear old hats on wet days and have good ones. But why not rainy weather hats in cheerful colors? Such hats are made, but all I've ever seen were hopelessly ugly. Someone should invent gay models in leather and oiled silk and lacquer straw.

Most of all, we should keep as trim and neat on rainy days as on clear ones. Why let the hair straggle out and the skirt drag because it's wet?

Lulu F.—For a person with dark blue eyes and black hair and by all the rich shades in the bright colors will be becoming, such as red, amber, brilliant blues and greens, and all combinations of these colors, such as henna, burnt orange and peacock blue.

Mrs. F.—The Pilocarpine tonic, for which I am glad to give you the formula, is not a trade article, so you could not purchase it made up at any drug store. You may, however, have the formula filled at any drug store. There is nothing in the tonic to cause any streaking of gray hair.

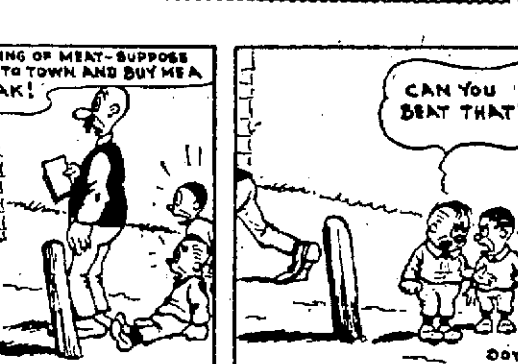

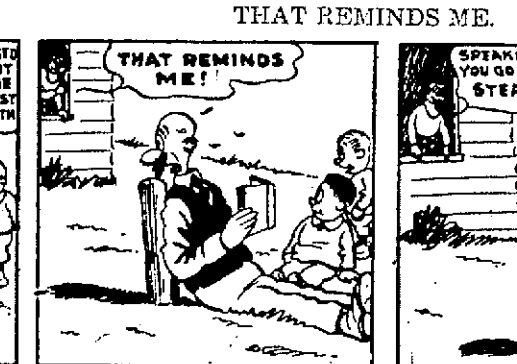

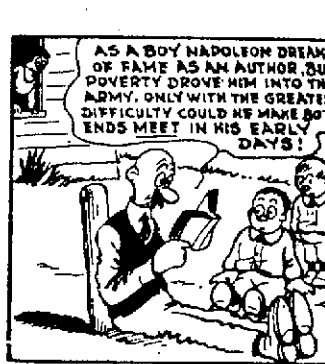

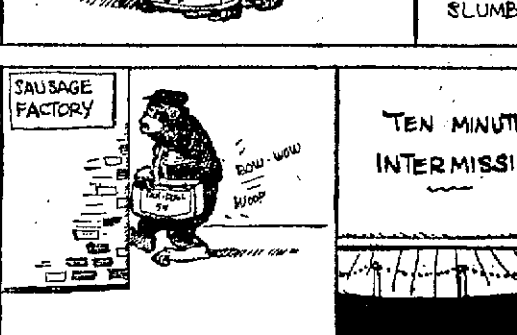

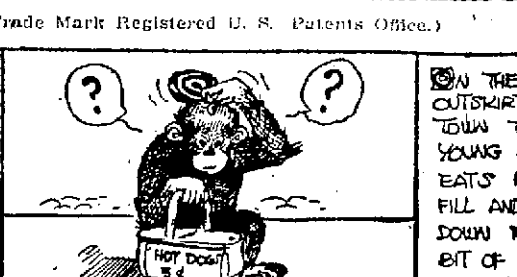

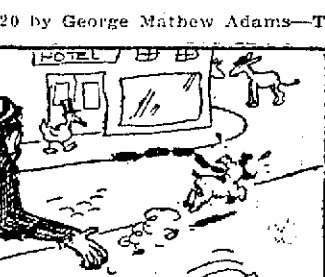

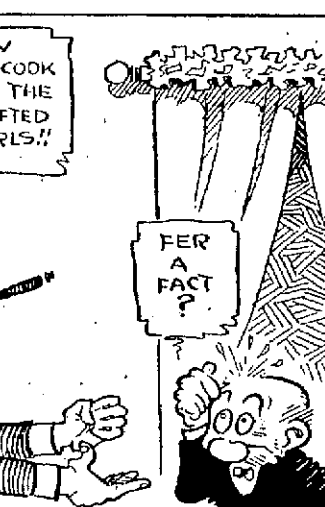

Anxious E.—That roughness of the skin on your arms and legs will disappear if you take sea salt baths and use a bathbrush to scrub the skin. Turkish baths will also relieve this roughness.

SHOOTING ACCIDENT VICTIM IS BURIED
Pineville—Funeral services were held Tuesday for Arthur McPherson, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie McPherson, living at Cornelia, six miles from here. The boy was killed when he accidentally shot himself while on a hunting trip. He entered a boat, preparing to cross a small creek, stumbled and the loaded gun was discharged when the trigger came in contact with the oarlock.

Bills will be paid and routine business transacted. Miss Jennie Hale, librarian, will spend the week-end in Chicago, attending a reunion of Hillsdale college alumni.

Mrs. Eldred is happy to advise all mothers about the care of their children of any age, or on any subject which does not belong in the field of the doctor.

The small booklet, "Care of the Baby" may be had by sending a self-addressed and stamped envelope and asking for it.

REGURGITATION OF FOOD
Regurgitation is a nice sounding name for vomiting. Most babies do regurgitate to some extent, because the stomach is so imperfectly closed in infancy that food spills out of it at almost any change of the baby's position. Such regurgitation is a relief to an overburdened stomach and is usually helpful. It usually takes place immediately after the baby has eaten and the milk comes up only slightly thicker than it went down and not at all sour. This is the reason for the warning not to "joggle" the baby around after eating but to let him lie quietly until some of the excess milk has had a chance to become absorbed.

Real vomiting, that in which the food lies for an hour or longer in the stomach and then is vomited, indicates that the milk has not been digested properly but is causing some irritation. A milk that is too rich in cream may cause a child to vomit frequently after eating at small intervals. The small mouthfuls spit up will be very sour. The vomiting may continue almost the whole interval of the feeding period. A tablespoon or so of water before each nursing and longer nursing intervals are two ways to help this trouble. For the bottle baby it is simple enough to skim off some of the cream. Sometimes if a baby is extremely intolerant of the cream content, skimmed milk will have to be fed for a time, or buttermilk which is practically fat free—and then later have the cream introduced back into the formula a little at a time.

CLEAN-UP DRIVE URGED FOR CITY

May 1-8 Suggested for Campaign Against Dirt.

Clean-up of cities throughout Wisconsin the first week in May is urged by the state superintendent of fire prevention, J. E. Florin, in a bulletin sent out from Madison this week, a copy of which has been received here by Fire Chief C. J. Murphy.

City councils are being called upon to designate a week for a general clean-up and to provide for free disposal of rubbish during that time. It is probable this will be among the first orders adopted by the new Janesville council which takes office under the managerial plan of government, Tuesday night.

"Streets, alleys, yards, fence and building corners, basements, attics, closets, areas, sheds and barns all need a thorough spring cleaning," Supt. Florin says.

Everybody Has Duty.
"Gather all rubbish and useless things and place them near the curb where city wagons can get the material conveniently."

"Section 327 authorizes city councils to remove rubbish at public expense."

"Even if your town does not give this service do not tolerate fire and disease breeding rubbish, but make the first week of May a real Clean-Up week. It is hoped that mayors and village presidents will issue formal proclamations of such a week."

"Everybody has a duty to perform in this matter, the householder, shopkeeper, factory manager and all other owners and occupants of property. Women's organizations, commercial clubs and other civic organizations should lead in this movement to the end of making their respective cities cleaner, safer, healthful and beautiful."

"School children and boy scouts make good clean-up squads for parks, school grounds and public buildings. A special inspection of school buildings and other public buildings should be made by fire department members and health officers during this week."

Fix Up Roofs.
"Much was accomplished in past years during such clean-up movements, but we can do still better. Then make every day a clean-up day."

"There are also other things which need your attention, repairing and cleaning chimneys, replacing dried out, moss grown shingles, with incombustible roof covering, replacing rusty stove pipes, closing up needless openings in walls to prevent sparks from entering, over-hauling poor electric wiring, etc."

"Paint and whitewash both mean better health and greater freedom from fire."

"Caution must be observed in building rubbish fires too near buildings on a windy day, or letting children play with the fire, as girls' clothes, particularly, ignite quite easily. Such fires should be attended by adults and put out at night."

"While securing greater safety through this clean-up work, you will also derive pleasure and satisfaction from clean and beautified surroundings."

"Have you started this movement? If not, begin today."

WORLD COURT IS HOPE OF KEARNEY

Americanism, democracy and peace, and in this it proved a powerful inspiration. While the banquet was sponsored by leading Rock county democrats, it was by no means a single party affair and, as such, it was unique.

Nation Needs Democrats.
High tribute was paid by Mr. Kearney to Thomas Jefferson, one of the nation's greatest statesmen, its first secretary of state, its third president, the author of the Declaration of Independence and founder of the democratic party. Jefferson was only 33 when he wrote that great document, said Mr. Kearney. In outlining the illustrious career of the man whose leadership and pen played such an important part in American history.

"The democratic party has survived down all the years from the days of Jefferson, at times suffering almost hopeless defeats, but always coming back because its principles are right," declared Mr. Kearney. "It is right because it has survived; it is strong, it has endured."

"The nation needs the democratic party today," he said with simple but impressive force. "The state needs it."

Isolation False Doctrine.
"My mind turns back to the days and scenes of the World War when we had a leader who came out in the open, and we entered into the conflict not for conquest, not for territory nor indemnity, but for peace. When it was over and victory was ours, the leader counseled with our present chief justice and our present great secretary of state. And he went to Paris to see the job completed."

"He won in Paris, but lost in Washington. Returning home he was loved by every nation but his own, he tried to carry out a purpose, but he fell."

"We have been without a purpose ever since. The weakness of our government since is that it has lacked purpose."

"This talk of isolation and standing apart from the rest of the world is beautiful, but it is a false doctrine. When a single murder in the far-off Balkan states could plunge a whole world into battle, killing 15 million men, women and children and squandering the wealth of nations, my heart reached out for some plan to avoid such a disaster in the future. But it was not to be."

"Nibbling at It."
"But we're nibbling at it. We're reaching out for it. We called a few of the nations together and agreed to limit our navies and suggested limiting our armies. Today 52 nations are functioning under a world association. Turkey, Germany, Russia and the United States are not in it, but Turkey and Germany are clamoring to get in. If they do, then we'll be left out, with Russia our only companion."

"So when the president calls out for support of the plan for a world court where nations would be compelled to come in and settle their disputes, just as you in Rock county go to the courts when you have your disagreements, we should give it to him. We should be with him 100 per cent. It is the duty of every man who loves peace to stand by Harding in support of this policy."

Condemns State Radicalism.
Turning from national to state affairs, Mr. Kearney declared, "we are reaping the harvest today of the seeds which we have sown."

"I don't know whether La Follette's party is going to swallow Victor Berger's or whether Berger's party is going to swallow La Follette's," he said, "but I'm not going to swallow either."

"It is time for the people who love Wisconsin, her history and traditions, to rouse themselves, shake off their apathy and get out on the firing line. Let's forget parties and save Wisconsin! Our state government today is practically deluged by a few men who have little regard for law. They voted a few weeks ago to abolish the national guard and I suggested to them at that time that they better begin to get rid of the police forces so they could have free shooting."

Next, I suggested they abolish the supreme court, and then they could run without any interruption. Our legislature is rumbling along and concerned about what's ever been done in the past, simply undoing everything. It's very cute, very shrewd."

He spoke of the first proposal to have a few people pay all the expenses of state government, declaring they are now hedging on this a little at finding it unconstitutional. Let's forget parties and save Wisconsin! Our state government today the banquet, read a letter from J. J. Clancy, Stoughton, regretting his illness prevented him from attending. More such meetings will be held in the future, Mr. Sutherland announced. Evansville, Edgerton, Beloit, Milton Junction, and several other villages and townships were represented.

76 Five Man Teams Entered in City Bowling Tournament

68 DOUBLES SIGN AND 115 AGREE TO PLAY SINGLES

The greatest city bowling tournament in the history of Janesville is assured. Entries to the most closed Thursday at midnight and when the lists are checked, 76 teams have entered the five men event, 68 teams had put their names down for the individual.

The handicap committee will meet at the Chamber of Commerce at 8 p. m. Friday. It will determine the extra pins to be allowed each man in an endeavor to equalize chances.

Some Teams Too Late.
The tournament will open next Monday night with five man games, doubles and singles on the West Side.

George Gillman was chairman of the committee on entries. Several teams failed to get in under the wire. Entries closed at midnight and those that came in after that time were turned back with regrets by Dr. S. F. Richards, secretary of the Janesville Bowling Association, in strict keeping with the rules.

Enthusiasm Running High.
Enthusiasm for the tournament has jumped to a high pitch in the last two days. Large numbers have been practicing. With the handicap help, some good scores are bound to be rolled.

The schedule of the meet will be made out Friday and be ready for publication on Saturday.

Seven Regulars on Ball Squad at Whitewater

Whitewater.—If L. C. Meade doesn't route another storm through Whitewater this month, Coach "Chick" Agnew expects to continue his outdoor work in baseball started this week.

Whitewater's prospects for a good baseball nine this year are very favorable. William Olson, regular pitcher, is in the lineup. Olson is a senior and for the past two years appears to be in good form. Walter Kwanli, the big southpaw, is again on the pitching staff this season. Martin Gharvey is back at his place behind the bat. Jimmy Schultz, who led the 1922 team with a high batting average, expects to better his record this spring. Three other regulars are Miles, Ryer and Hootch. The 1922 team was led by Howard Angala, who played on the DePaul College team last year; Milton Schwager, Lyle Klitzke, Piper McKenna, Larson, Schultz, Zuelke, Rabhar, Brady and Amos.

The first game on the schedule at present is with Milton College, April 27.

Hope to Perfect Industrial League Early Next Week

Rules for the proposed industrial league of this city have been formulated by the committee and are to be submitted to the organization committee for approval next Tuesday.

On Tuesday, the organization committee will meet at the Y. M. C. A. at 7 p. m. Its recommendations will be turned over to the board of control composed of managers and captains, which will meet at 8 p. m. Tuesday. It is the plan to complete the organization of the circuit next Tuesday night.

The secretary and treasurer are to be elected. Whether the league shall be amateur or whether it shall permit semi-professionals in its ranks is a problem that is receiving considerable attention. Equalization methods are also causing considerable discussion.

Huebel Stands Out as Leader of Lion Bowlers

A. J. Huebel, with an average of 170, tops the average of the Lions' Den bowling league, according to statistics given by Friday Morning. Huebel hit 5,110 pins in 30 games. Charles Garthright is second in line with 164. Dr. C. T. Foote is the other man with an average of better than 150, having 162.

Five men rank between 150 and 160.

Scott's Ambition May Be Defeated

New York.—Four was expressed by baseball fans Friday that Everett Scott, the Yankee's shortstop, might not be able to achieve his ambition to play one thousand straight league games, because of an injury to one ankle, received Thursday in a game between the Yankees and the Brooklyn Nationals at Springfield, Mo. He has played 956 consecutive games, a record never approached by any major leaguer. Starting in June, 1916, as a member of the Red Sox, he has played six full seasons without missing a game. He has received minor injuries from time to time, but none serious enough to prevent playing.

WOMEN SOPHOMORES WIN MILTON TOURNEY

Misses.—First place in the annual women's inter-class track meet at Milton college was won by the sophomores Thursday afternoon. The same team earned first honors a year ago when representing the freshman class. Next Thursday afternoon a track meet between girls' teams of Milton college and Union high school will be held in the college gymnasium.

Busy Man's Sport Page

By FRANK SINCLAIR

"TOMMY" Jones of the University of Wisconsin hit upon a first class idea when he stood before the broadcasting machine in the Madison stadium on Thursday night and spread his voice over the continent. "Tom" boosted for Wisconsin. He pushed for "sports" for all, the greatest of all sports. He reached people whom he never could get to in any other manner. He went direct into thousands of homes, hundreds of them right here in Wisconsin. There is no telling how much good he did but it is a safe bet he dropped more than one seed that may bring new athletes to Badger fields, for many of his listeners were kids of the right calibre. The chap who has a radio set—and many of them are high school boys—are of the thinking, clean-cut type that will be a distinct value to Wisconsin.

"JIMMY" SMITH of Milwaukee is one of two bowlers who ever won a championship twice at American Bowling congress tournaments. He won the title at events in 1911 at St. Louis and took the same division in 1920 at Toledo. Records show that Larry Sutton of Rochester, N. Y., won the title at the singles at Pittsburgh in 1909 and in the next month won the shoot-out from Frank Brugeman of Sioux City in 1922. Sutton won the solos at Chicago. The marks that were hit at Milwaukee this year will probably stand for many seasons; yet who can tell.

"YOU'VE got the right idea, keep boosting for the amateur," says H. J. Cunningham of Janesville to the Gazette. "Get all the people you can to go out and play." Whether the Gazette is succeeding is for the public to decide. But, just in passing, permit us to remark that the Gazette sports page is being used by the department of journalism at the University of Wisconsin as an example of the new thought in sports handling in the types of cities like Janesville, where instead of boosting for one outstanding team in each sport, the idea is to urge the community to disport itself in the several divisions of athletics.

THE HOME TALENT idea in athletics is growing in Wisconsin. The Milton American legion has put in a fine job of it. The new southern Wisconsin league. When Andrew Sampson, southern Wisconsin game warden was in Janesville Thursday, he reported that he had seen a cougar. For himself, he declared he thought the plan was the best possible for towns of the size of those competing. In addition, the natural rivalry between Edgerton and Stoughton and between Deerfield and Cambridge and the others will develop a big following for each team, he believes.

IF GEORGE SISLER is unable to participate in the big league again because of a deficient strength, the American league will lose not only a star, but one of the best men of its number, picked by experts and popular opinion as the first man to have his name inscribed on the American league $100,000 monument at Washington. A fan, remarking about Sisler's falling weight, asked if it is possible that there are players other than Sisler who have weak eyes but who do not wear glasses for fear that their efficiency will immediately be considered lowered and act as the first step in their elimination from the game. It appears to be a sound reasoning and perhaps the time will come when league managers will have the eyes of their men examined just as many industrial concerns now do with their employees. The eye is the most vital factor in winning baseball games.

Iowa and Purdue clash Friday and open Big Ten baseball race.

Diamond Sparkles.—Tonsillitis may halt Sisler's eye operation. An even dozen double plays have been pulled off by the White Sox infield. In the last three days against the Cubs, the Sox have an edge on the practice series, 8 to 7. The Cubs, in a ninth inning blowup, lost to the Kansas City American association team. Blues coming from behind a four run lead, scored five runs and copped. Following a successful pre-season practice in the South, St. Louis Nationals are expected to open the season in the American's in two exhibition games beginning Saturday.—The Washington Americans wind up their barnstorming tour with the Boston Braves with a game in Richmond, Va. Friday and return home Friday night for three more exhibition contests here before proceeding to Philadelphia to open the schedule on Wednesday. BRINGING UP FATHER

Sports for All Boosted by Jones in Radio Talk

"Tommy" Jones, director of athletics at the University of Wisconsin was in Janesville Thursday night. That is, his voice was. In a talk by radio, broadcasted from Madison, Jones boosted sports for all. Many radio fans here caught his "pitch". Jones declared Wisconsin provides a wider program of spring athletic activities than any other university in the country. Badger teams are now shifting from the artificial indoor atmosphere to the natural outdoors "where pure air and sunshine help immeasurably to develop strong healthy bodies".

Aside from spring training to start in earnest next week for 50 football candidates under Coach Jack Ryan; intra-mural baseball among 100 student teams; and spring work for the track squads, Madison will soon see thousands of games, row boats and canoes on Lake Mendota. The Varsity and other vigorous training indoors during the past winter will soon be ready to launch their shell outdoors in preparation for a big year. The water lovers are starting preparation for Venetian night, May 6.

Sports for Everyone.
Tennis players, who have been at work indoors during the winter playing handball, and golfing will get on the turf shortly. Tennis matches, said Jones, have been scheduled with Iowa, Chicago Northwestern, Minnesota and Michigan, and golf matches with Illinois, Chicago and Northwestern and a team will enter the conference golf meet at Chicago. "It is the aim of the department to have every student physically able to do, enter some branch of competitive outdoor athletics," said Jones, in spring and fall. Even the girls, with tennis, baseball, field hockey and archery on their own field, take advantage of the chance for plenty of exercise out of doors.

Watertown Man Heads Hunt Club

Oshkosh.—A temporary organization for the formation of a Wisconsin Beagle club was completed at a meeting of Beagle owners here as a feature of the Fox River Valley Kennel club show. E. A. Copp, Watertown, was elected president, and S. D. Pollock, Oshkosh, secretary. General plans were made for a field tournament to be staged next fall, probably in the vicinity of Marinette, where the Wisconsin club may later combine with the Michigan club in staging a "sassy shoe rabbit" tournament later.

Union Abandons Baseball Plans

Milton Junction.—Milton Union high school will not engage in baseball this spring, as originally planned. Coach W. S. Polan announced Thursday. With track work, oratory and other outside activities taking up the students' time, no place can be found in the daily program for baseball. The school board has decided that events will be a meet at Evansville between Evansville, Union, Clinton and Palmyra. These schools completed here last year in a meet held under the auspices of Milton college. Union won with ease and later took part in the state meet at Madison.

Marshall Wins and Ties Lasker in Chess Battle

Chicago.—The race for the national chess championship of the United States between Frank J. Marshall, present title holder, and Edward J. Lasker, challenger, is tied up again. On Thursday, Marshall won the seventh game here on the 52nd move. Lasker played although recovering from an attack of neurine poisoning. The seventh game closed in a pawn's ending, with the black queen remaining on the board. Marshall's last move deprived Lasker of his white queen and placed the champion in an overwhelming position. Marshall's strategy deprived Lasker of a chance to tie.

The eighth contest will be played at Milwaukee Friday.

Teams Complete Practice Friday for Title Game

Only final touches remain to be arranged for the big city basketball championship game at the Coliseum rink in South River street Saturday night between the Black Cats and R. F. R's. Each team has won two games and the fifth is to decide the title holder for 1923. Both squads, desiring to take the honors, have been going through plenty of practice motions this week. Final preliminary work halts Friday night and the team members will rest up for the battle.

The R. F. R's boys give out the dope that their men have recovered their health and are ready to play. They are saying little and remarking they will do their talking in the game.

It was creeping up behind a turtle, with its mouth open. Finally it was within reach but just as the great jaws were snapping shut the turtle made a spring, ran up a tree and escaped. "Why, father," said the boy, "how could a turtle climb a tree?" "By hook or by crook," said the father, "he had to."—Wall Street Journal.

Prep School Track Meet at Whitewater on May 4

Whitewater.—The local normal school will again conduct a track and field meet for high schools this year. The annual classic was revived last year with a marvelous turnout from the high schools of southern Wisconsin.

Although Coach "Chick" Agnew feared finances would not permit a meet this spring, he has finally concluded the running of a tourney will be possible.

The meet will be held this year May 4. All events will be sanctioned by the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association. The events will be run off in the afternoon.

Whitewater has the best athletic field in southern Wisconsin outside of Madison. The grounds will be in finest possible shape by the time of the meet and will be prepared to make the cinder path fast and the turf excellent for the field numbers. High schools are in most instances abandoning baseball this year in preference for track. This should mean that Whitewater Normal will see an even larger number of institutions represented in its meet than the record list that completed last year. Janesville high school is likely to send a large squad eyed here inasmuch as the Blues are going in heavily for the sport this year in place of the national pastime.

A large list of prizes will be given. Events will be run off on the point basis. Only approved officials will handle the meet.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Gazette:
I see Andy Cleaver was arrested and fined for running a punch-board with candy prizes. If the police walked a half block across Milwaukee to Main they could find a place where gambling is going on all the time. Nothing doing there. Is this practice of Andy Cleaver's? Andy was violating the law but why pick on him?

I am of the opinion that neither Thomas Moreland nor Miss Clitzen's letters have struck 12 with honest law-abiding citizens of Janesville. I also believe that the above mentioned writers are not very well acquainted with the real facts in this case.

I, too, have met and personally

DR. PERCY PRAISES WILLIAM Z. FOSTER IN CLUB ADDRESS

New York—The Rev. Dr. Percy Sickney Grant, rector of the Church of Ascension, defended William Z. Foster, radical, in an address Wednesday before the Adversarial club. He said Foster's statement that laboring men should organize one big union was correct.

"That is exactly what is going to happen, even if it is called the bad name of syndicalism," said the church man.

"If capital thinks today it is going to destroy labor unions and force the working man to agree to individual settlements with capital, it is mistaken."

Foster's recent trial in Michigan on charges of criminal syndicalism ended in a divided jury.

TELLTAL SYMPTOMS OF
WOMAN'S ILLS

Every woman who suffers from backache, dragging-down pains, nervousness, irregularities, displacements, irritability, or despondency should recognize in such symptoms some derangement of her system which should have attention before some serious ailment develops. These conditions are often evidenced by a sallow complexion, dark circles under the eyes, headache and sleeplessness. For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been pre-eminently successful in overcoming such conditions, and it is now recognized everywhere as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

4 SPEAKERS CHOSEN FOR DISTRICT MEET

Enthusiasm High at Elimination Event for Beloit Contest.

Janesville will be represented at the district declamatory-oral contest at Beloit soon by Phyllis Luchinsinger, Edna Connors, Philip Litzkow and Sven Sorenson, according to the decision of the judges at the local elimination contest held at the high school, Thursday night. In addition to this contest, interest was high because of the class competition for a banner to be awarded to the class displaying the best class spirit. This was won by the Junior B.

other than students, enthusiasm was high in both contests. At the close, class-mates of Litzkow carried him on their shoulders through the hall. Junior B's took up the decorations which won the prize for them and marched with them about the corridors, while after the declamatory and the declamatory contests, cheering and singing was deafening. It was on the cheers, songs and decorations that the judges determined the best class spirit. It proved difficult, with one class having elaborate decorations, even to care while others outdied them in noisemaking. The banner will be presented at an assembly soon.

Preceding the declamatory contest, Miss Ruth Fisher played a piano solo, "Prelude in C Sharp." Herbert Heise was chairman. Judges for this contest—students of the public speaking department of Beloit college—gave first honors to Litzkow, second to Sorenson. Their topics, respectively, were "The Reign of the Common People," and "Woodrow Wilson." Other competitors were H. J. Walsh with "The Power of Free Ideas" and Frederick Hyslop with "Roosevelt's Inaugural Address." Miss Jessie Vineer gave a violin solo, "Belero," after which the girls competed for first and second places, won respectively by Phyllis Luchinsinger with "Helen's Babies," and Edna Connors with "One of Bob's Tramps." Others were "On the Other Train" by Genevieve Hughes and "The Second Trial," by Marjorie Earle.

Yells, songs and the decision of the judges followed. The funds raised by the ten cents admission charge will defray expenses of sending the four delegates to Beloit.

More interest was displayed in the contest this year than for three or four years past.
